

Revision of Foreign Surveillance Intelligence Act Content Requests Numbers

May 23, 2019

During this half, Facebook conducted an internal review of our US national security reporting metrics as part of an effort to strengthen our protocols and ensure standardization of accounting methods across our family of apps. During this review, we discovered an error in our accounting methods for Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA) content requests. Outlined below are the previously published numbers and the revised numbers we are updating today. We are required by law to report this data in ranges of 500 and we delay the release of data on these requests to comply with the law.
